CONGRESS GOES TO WAR

Eight Gangsters Held In $427,000 Holdup

MUNITIONS GROUP WANTS POLICING OF SHIPBUILDERS

Declares 'Telepathy' Makes Firms' Bids Unreasonably High

SAY NAVY IS AT MERCY

Senate Committee Proposes Putting Limit On Profits

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—Demanding a big stick policy to "police" builders of warships and prevent them from confusing "public defense needs with their private pockets," the senate munitions committee today urged a four-point legislative program to:

1. Prevent "collusion" in bidding for navy construction.
2. Prevent American patents from getting into the hands of foreign powers.
3. Limit profits to five per cent of the total cost to the government, in cases where the government assumes the risks of the enterprise, or to 10 per cent where the government does not.
4. Require that shipbuilders' "lobbyists" register with the government and disclose their income and expenditures.

Some shipbuilders, said the committee headed by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, "are certainly not above suspicion of willingness to wave the flag or to circulate war scares in the plain and simple interest of their own pocketbooks, regardless of results."

The committee, making a preliminary report on an investigation to determine whether "collusion" existed, held that there was "telepathy" among shipyard officials in dealing with each other so that each got the ship contracts it wanted at profits as high as 36 per cent.

"The private shipbuilders," the report said, "should very definitely be policed in any and all moves made by them to confuse public defense needs with their private pockets or should be cut off entirely from the building of ships for the navy."

It declared the navy was "at the mercy" of the yards in preparing plans for war ships and equally helpless at determining what prices were fair.

"A series of bids are put before the navy," the report recited, "and the navy has to take the low one, and the taxpayers have to hope and pray that the low one is somewhere within a few million dollars of being reasonable."

Continuing, the report said:

"In submitting this preliminary report, the committee wishes to emphasize that it is interested mainly in two things:

"The first of these is that the naval defense shall be provided for without profiteering or collusion.

"The second of these is that the national necessity for a purely defensive navy shall not be confused with the private necessity of the shipbuilders for continuing profits as a consequence of the present close interdependence of the navy department and these private shipbuilders. * * *

"The growth of the navy contains within it the seeds of armament races and wars as well as the legitimate seeds of a purely defensive national life insurance."

As a first corrective effort, the committee made its recommendation the legislation, which already has been introduced into congress.

Asserting that private interests could incite nations to armament races, the committee declared they were not "the right parties" to be left "close to the power keg of international relations."

Construction of naval vessels was declared to be more costly in private yards than in government yards.

"While the evidence is not all in," the report said, "the indications are that the private yards cost the gov-

Five In Louisiana Ask Re-Study Of Tax Claims

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—Five Shreveport, La., petitioners applied to the board of tax appeals today for a re-determination of a 1932 income tax claim of $26,728 assessed each as alleged transferee of the Pelican Natural Gas company.

The petitioners were the Hunter Company, Inc., Samuel Douglas Hunter, W. J. Hunter, Mrs. Mary P. Hunter and Miss Octavia Hunter. All denied liability for the company's debts as transferred and repeated the allegation of error made by the Pelican company in a petition filed June 3.

At that time the company charged the bureau of internal revenue erroneously disallowed deductions from its taxable income for business losses, bad debts and depreciation.

THIRD MAN SLAIN IN FEUD

MANCHESTER, Ky., June 24.—(AP)—Earl Porter was reported shot to death early today, marking the third fatal shooting in a week in feud-ridden Clay county.

A week ago James Cupp was slain in the mountains of this county and on Saturday Bobbie Baker was shot to death on Main street here.

Porter was reported slain along Rockcastle creek near Portersburg.

Meanwhile, four officials and one former official of Clay county demanded today a special term of Clay circuit court to investigate violence in the community.

The officials, however, condemned statements in reports emanating outside the county which they said gave an unfair picture of conditions.

In a letter to Chief Justice William Rogers Clay of the court of appeals

Wealthy Oil Royalties Dealer Causes Arrest With Dictaphones

NEW YORK, June 24.—(AP)—A former investigator for the federal securities and exchange commission, seized in the detectaphone-equipped home of a wealthy oil royalties dealer, was held a federal prisoner today, accused by his captor of being the principal in a $27,500 bribery plot.

Federal authorities declined to say what charge would be placed against the man, William A. Raybell, 41, of Pelham, N. Y., pending arraignment during the day before a United States commissioner.

J. Edward Jones, who brought about the arrest when Raybell called at the Jones estate in suburban Scarsdale yesterday, charged him with violation of a state bribery statute. Local authorities, however, have

WALMSLEY SAYS LONG INSPIRED GARBAGE STRIKE

Mayor Of New Orleans Refuses To Resign Despite Demand

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—(AP)—Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley charged today that Senator Huey P. Long had "inspired" last Friday's one-day strike of 300 city garbage collectors in the senator's efforts to get Walmsley to resign and turn the city administration over to the Long machine in their political feud.

The mayor and commission council held conferences with a six-member executive committee of the garbage men this morning but they failed to reach an agreement on the garbage men's demands for back pay and lengthened work time and a later meeting was set for 3 p.m.

JENNINGS, La., June 24.—(AP)—Two husbands were under arrest today in this section on charges in connection with alleged abuse of their wives and another man was given a five-year penitentiary term when he pled guilty to operating a confidence game.

Officers arrested a man booked as Louis Belon, of Fenton, on the allegation that he hit his wife on the head with a rolling pin and injured her.

Another man booked as Pete Cradler, of Lake Arthur, was jailed on a charge of threatening to kill his wife, assault and battery and carrying a concealed weapon.

The third man, booked as D. Dozier, of Port Arthur, Texas, was sentenced to the five-year penitentiary term after his plea of guilty to the confidence game in connection with buying poultry from farmers with worthless checks.

LINDBERGH GENIUS PERFECTS MECHANICAL HEART

Working secretly for several years in the Rockefeller institute, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has perfected a new mechanical heart and lungs which scientists hail as marking an epoch in medical progress. The apparatus, similar in principle to the diagram shown above, enables surgeons to remove from an animal's body a vital organ such as the heart or kidneys and keep it alive indefinitely and growing independently by means of artificial blood furnished by the mechanical heart. Moreover, it has revived organs more than an hour after the death of animals from which they came—something medical science had been trying to do for 123 years. Col. Lindbergh is shown at the left and on the right is Dr. Alexis Carrel, who has used the invention successfully. (Associated Press Photos)

MUSSOLINI DEAF TO ACCORD TALK

Il Duce Intends To Pursue Radical Solution Toward Ethiopia

ROME, June 24.—(AP)—Italian circles said Premier Benito Mussolini turned a deaf ear today to Capt. Anthony Eden's explanations of the Anglo-German naval accord.

Italians predicted freely that no results would come from the conference between Il duce and Britain's roving representative of peace, save possibly for a European air accord.

Concerning the Anglo-German naval accord, they said Mussolini told Captain Eden he could not approve the unilateral manner in which it was reached without bringing Italy and France into the final discussion.

Il duce also reserved the right to ask for a higher ratio in any general

DILLINGER FEAR IS TOLD

CHICAGO, June 24.—(AP)—Hours of crazed fear of death or capture, moments of insane bravado, thousands of dollars spent for silence, constant distrust of every companion, fifty dollars a week for sleeping room in a hovel.

That picture, stripping away every vestige of romance, was drawn of the lives of John Dillinger and a lieutenant at the trials of Attorney Louis P. Piquett, charged with harboring Dillinger and Homer Van Meter, who both finally met up with realization of their worst fear, death by bullets.

Witnesses told the story at Piquett's two trials, first in January for aiding MEXICO, D. F., June 24.—(AP)—Reinforced police detachments guarded the United States embassy today as authorities began an investigation into a bombing that shattered several windows of the building.

A bomb, apparently made of dynamite, was thrown from a speeding automobile Sunday into the embassy garden. The explosion tore a nine-inch gap in the wall surrounding the garden and broke one window in the private office of Ambassador Josephus Daniels.

The ambassador said the incident was of "no importance at all," but Acting Secretary of Foreign Relations Ciniceros called to express his regrets,

Fast Drop Is Seen In Floods In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 24.—(AP)—As muddy water continued to spread over lowlands in Arkansas today, residents of the state found encouragement in a report from the weather bureau that barring further rainfall stages of the Arkansas river and other major streams will drop rapidly.

Crews in the Little Rock area continued their efforts to prevent destruction of property from cave-ins. Two garages and 15 trees toppled into the river yesterday when a section of the river bank crumbled. Five houses were cabled to prevent similar damage.

MONROE MAYOR ASKED TO ATTEND COTTON PARLEY

Invitations Extended By Orleans Executive, Association Chief

Mayor Arnold Bernstein Monday morning received from Mayor T. S. Walmsley of New Orleans and from John M. Taylor, president of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, invitations to attend a conference to be held in New Orleans July 15 to consider "the great economic harm resulting to the entire south from the rapid loss of markets for the south's cotton, and for the purpose of taking such action as may seem wise to safeguard from destruction the raw cotton industry of the United States."

Mayor Bernstein said he expected to attend the conference, and urged that others from this region make similar plans. The mayor invited organizations and industries to select delegates to attend the gathering, and to communicate with him when such representatives are chosen, so that proper plans may be made to take

Bottom Of Third Nine-Month Cycle Is About Reached

NEW YORK, June 24.—(AP)—If business follows the same pattern of intermediate cycles that it has pursued since the spring of 1933, Wall Street analysts say the next few months should see a pronounced upswing.

Since the banking holiday in March, 1933, there apparently have been three small cycles or waves of business activity, each of about nine months duration.

It appears then, that business activity is now around the bottom of the rough between the third wave, and a fourth or oncoming wave.

Men Under Heavy Guard in Paterson, N. J., For Brooklyn Job

EVIDENCE IS SECRET

No Shots Fired As State Police Swarm Down On Hideout

PATERSON, N. J., June 24.—(AP)—Eight alleged gangsters arrested in a raid on their Pompton lakes hideout were questioned today in connection with the $427,000 Brooklyn armored car robbery last September.

Police said the men, held under heavy guard in the Passaic county jail, were members of the "Charlie the Jew" gang of New York hijackers. Two of the gang had previously been questioned about the holdup which set a record in point of cash loot.

Officials refused to disclose what evidence, if any, they had linking the gunmen with the Brooklyn robbery, but stated the group is also suspected of the slaying of George Keeler, Brooklyn boss stevedore, and the double murder of Thomas (Tough Tommy) Protheroe and Mrs. Grace Moore on the steps of a tavern in Sunnyside, Queens, last May 16.

Sergeant Augustus Albrecht of the New Jersey state police issued a formal denial of reports that the men had planned to kidnap Joe Louis, negro boxer, from his training camp five miles from their hideout.

"They just aren't the type," Ulbrecht scoffed.

Not a single shot was fired when a swarm of state police, backed up by New York detectives, surrounded a bungalow on the banks of the Passaic river early yesterday, battered down the door and collared the occupants.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 24.—(AP)—The proceedings instituted by the Louisiana public service commission against the Southwestern Gas and Electric company were taken under advisement by the commission today after Mark Wolff, public utilities consultant, had recommended reductions in rates in Shreveport and environs and the company had denied it was making more than a fair return.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 24.—(AP)—The Louisiana Public Service commission today opened a hearing inquiry into Shreveport, La., electric rates without the services of Senator Huey P. Long, under whose guidance it initiated the investigation several weeks ago.

Martin, witnesses said, walked into the store with a revolver and was taking nine $5 bills from the cash register when Marici, night manager of the store, leaped on him.

Kiern and others in the store rushed to his assistance, beating the bandit over the head with bottles, an adding machine and other articles.

During the scuffle, Marici was shot in the lung and Kiern in the leg. The bandit was finally beaten into unconsciousness despite his pleas for mercy.

Vatican Intervention Regarded As Unlikely

VATICAN CITY, June 24.—(AP)—Prelates were on record today as saying any intervention by the vatican regarding activities by the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin were extremely unlikely.

They said the holy see had been informed of no violations of canon law by the "radio priest" and pointed out that the pope rarely intervened to discipline a parish priest since a bishop is considered to be the nearly absolute ecclesiastical ruler of a diocese.

'DEATH SENTENCE' IS CHOPPED FROM UTILITY MEASURE

Substantial House Majority Reported Against Compulsory Phase

SAYS TAX PLAN GOOD

Borah Expresses Belief Roosevelt's Proposal Is Sound

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—This week may see the climactic fighting in one of the fiercest struggles of this congress. The utility holding company bill, shorn of the "death sentence" which President Roosevelt desires to have imposed on holding firms branded "unnecessary," moves to the house floor after tense weeks in committee.

The bill already has passed the senate, where the compulsory abolition feature won by one vote. But before reporting the bill out Saturday night, the house commerce committee changed that, giving the securities commission discretionary power. A private poll in the house has indicated a substantial majority against the "death sentence."

Before taking up this issue, the house busied itself today with District of Columbia legislation, while the senate moved toward a vote on the Bankhead bill, setting up a corporation with an eventual borrowing power of $1,000,000,000 to help tenant farmers and sharecroppers to own their own land.

However, the minds of the legislators were divided between the business at hand and the overshadowing issue of taxes. They talked over Senator Borah's declaration that President Roosevelt's call for new taxes on wealth was "sound" and they noted how that statement gave encouragement to a sizeable bloc pressing for tax-the-wealthy action at this session. Democratic leaders prepared to ask President Roosevelt if he meant to seek action now or at some later date.

Another topic of discussion was the senate munitions committee's report demanding legislation to prevent "collusion" among shipyards in bidding for warship jobs, to cut profits to 5 per cent of the cost to the government in cases where the government assumes the risk, and to make "lobbyists" disclose their affairs. The committee headed by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, demanded a big stick policy to "police" shipbuilders.

Besides the utility bill, another measure around which the fires of controversy burn hot may soon leap into the headlines. Leaders are seeking to get the omnibus banking bill, which would centralize control over money and credit, out of the senate banking committee for action before July 1. Dr. Adolph C. Miller, dean of the federal reserve board, issued a statement favoring centralized control but he recommended changes in the administration bill, including some alterations to strengthen the board's independence.

Meanwhile, the American Liberty league assailed the centralized control features of the administration bill as a "potential menace to our credit and monetary systems."

Roosevelt's Plan Sound, Borah Says

WASHINGTON, June 24.—(AP)—Senator Borah's declaration that President Roosevelt's proposals for new taxation on wealth is "sound in principle" lent encouragement today to a group of legislators fighting to put such a plan across this session.

The group, in which Senator La-Follette, Progressive, Wisconsin, is prominent, gave notice that unless the

Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 24.—(Special)—Well this "sock the rich" program is about all you hear about now and you can tell just to a dollar how much a man has got by how sore he is. They are supposed to put things over till next congress, but Senator Joe Robinson in yesterday morning's paper had the best suggestion, as he generally always does, for he is very level-headed and plenty smart. Joe says to thrash it out at this session. "Why go home leaving everybody in fear of the next session." Hold the clinic now, and operate if they are going to operate. You won't help business by postponement, why not go ahead and let everybody know just what it is going to cost 'em to die. For the way it is now, a fellow don't know whether to die or not.

Will Rogers

Marriage of Miss Helen Jones and Mr. Richard Berry at Grace church at 5 o'clock.

The marriage of Miss Anna Pharr Turner, daughter of Dr. A. W. Turner of Shreveport,, and Mr. Charles N. White of Alexandria claims the interest of friends in this section of the state, due to the popularity of the contracting parties.

Due to the illness in the bride's family, plans for a brilliant church wedding were altered. The ceremony was quietly performed at the Centenary college chapel June the twentieth, with Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs officiating. He was assisted by Reverend Robert Brown of the Mangum Memorial church of Shreveport.

Miss Wardella Mayo of Lake Charles was the bride's attendant and Mr. Wallace White acted in the capacity of best man.

A pre-nuptial concert was rendered, with Mr. Fred Savoy of Crowley, pianist. He also accompanied Dr. E. O. Harbin, who sang "All For You" and "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white lace with veil of illusion caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

In recognition of the splendid work accomplished by the bride and bridegroom in the Louisiana Methodist conference, the young people in attendance at the conference assembly in session at Centenary college, attended the wedding en masse.

Miss Dorothy Graves, lovely young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Q. Graves, is anticipating the pleasure of another summer at Camp Nakanawa, Mayland, Tenn. She will leave on the twenty-sixth of June.

The regular program meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church was held Tuesday. Circle six was in charge. The study leaders were Mrs. Greenwell and Mrs. Myers.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE PARAMOUNT—Shirley Temple's picture, "Our Little Girl," closes its engagement today at the Paramount theater. The transports of delight from young and old prove once more what a hold this wonder child has on the movie public.

It is an amazing performance she gives here. Without exaggeration "Our Little Girl," an emotional story that might happen in any home, can be called her greatest picture to-date. The rich spontaneous art she displays here rebuilds our faith in all that goes to make life a joyous adventure.

All through the picture this reviewer kept thinking of the tribute which Irvin S. Cobb the writer paid Shirley on the occasion of the Academy Award. Said he: "You have made more people happy and made more children laugh than any child your age in the history of the world."

Truer words were not spoken to describe the charm and glamor cast by this amazing youngster.

By this time one takes for granted the splendid natural acting accomplishments of Shirley. But how she can sing!

In this compelling picture Shirley sings a song which bears the title of the picture. She captivates young and old, tugs the heart strings with her unassuming but perfect art, singing with the same rich humanity that holds her audience when she is acting.

AT THE CAPITOL—Joe E. Brown is always good for a big laugh.

He is the film favorite of all kids in whatever part of the world motion pictures are shown, and "taking the children to see Joe E. Brown," has became as pleasant a diversion for grown ups as taking them to the circus.

Now Joe E. has the kind of a role his fans have always sought for him, and the immortal humor of the late Ring Lardner combined with the comedian's own talents, made the Warner Bros.' home run comedy "Alibi Ike" which closes today at the Capitol theater, one of the season's smash hits.

Ring Lardner knew more about baseball than any author of his time, and his stories of their idiosyncracies and habits made him famous. "Alibi Ike" was the most popular of them, and all its side-splitting fun has been incorporated into the film version.

As the title would imply, Joe E. is a great ball player who always has an alibi, no matter whether he is right or wrong. This habit not only brought him his nickname, but almost cost him his girl, and led him into a series of adventures as thrilling as they are ludicrous.

That Joe is better than ever goes without saying, for he has a better and funnier role than usual, and one in which he is given a real opportunity. The story has more romance than is usual in a Joe E. Brown comedy, the feminine lead being taken by Olivia de Havilland.

Courtneys Celebrated Their 37th Anniversary

Many long time friends of Captain and Mrs. Eugene B. Courtney called on them Sunday at their home, 500 Hall street, to express felicitations on the thirty-seventh anniversary of their marriage.

Due to the fact that the captain is not in good health, no formal celebration was held.

The Courtneys were married on June 23, 1898, during the Spanish-American war, in which Mr. Courtney served as first lieutenant. Both Captain and Mrs. Courtney have been active in fraternal and civic affairs and possess a wide circle of friends.

GREAT RICHES

by Mateel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: After the death of the Stimson twins, James Stimson makes $5,000 very easily, and decides to spend most of it on a long trip. He and Jane have been drifting apart, but after their return from their second honeymoon everybody in New Concord decides they are at last "adjusted" to each other and going to be happy. But it is not so, and now the Judge is telling Miss Julia, who helped entice James into the marriage in the first place, just what he thinks of Jane as a wife.

Chapter 35

EXPLOSION

"MANAGE him? Yes, Jane's managing him all right," roared the Judge, bringing one fist down with a bang into his open palm. "She's managing him straight to hell.

"What Jane was really cut out for was a matron of an orphans' home—and God help the orphans! You know, Miss Julia, that James Stimson isn't a clodhopper or a human machine like that Northrup outfit. He's sensitive and delicate like a harp and has to be handled like a harp and not like a trained pig.

"The Lord-a-Mighty didn't make James orderly and He didn't make James practical, but Jane thinks she can. I was over there last night and James dropped some cigar ashes on the floor like any man would in his own house and you should have seen the look she gave him.

"She told him there was an ash tray at his elbow, in the same tone she would have told a stray dog to take his dirty bone out of her parlor."

"What did James do?"

"He didn't do anything but shut up and never act natural again all evening. I'd like to be married to Jane myself for about a week so that I could tell her what I think of her—it would take just about that long. I was so mad I went home and didn't sleep a wink."

Miss Julia tried to stand up for her young friend, but the Judge was in no mood to listen.

"You want to keep your eyes shut to the truth or you would not talk that drivel. It's plain enough to anyone who wants to see it. The trouble is that Jane is a born old maid with the mothering instinct gone to seed.

"She acts as if her husband were a naughty little boy Fate or the Devil had wished on her to bring up and who hasn't sense enough or judgment enough to wipe his own nose or wash behind his ears.

"Why, I was over to the Millards for dinner last week along with James and Jane and when Bill Millard asked James whether he would have his roast beef rare or well done, Jane snapped out before James could get his mouth open, that he liked it well done. James never said a word and ate what was given him, although I happen to know that he likes his beef rare."

"Seems to me that James better learn to stand on his own feet occasionally instead of letting Jane do all the leading. She probably doesn't realize just how such things sound."

"There's just one way to manage a woman like Jane Northrup and that's with a club," growled the Judge rudely. "I never said James was perfect—he isn't. But if he added wife-beating to his other qualifications I wouldn't be able to find a flaw in him. As it is I'm worried—worried sick."

"Oh, pshaw," said Miss Julia. "You're talking pure nonsense."

She sent her old friend home somewhat comforted, but she remained worried and uncomfortable herself.

JAMES meanwhile was asking himself a dozen times daily just what had happened to him and Jane. Things had gone so well for a while after their trip East. He had plunged into his work expecting soon to make another five thousand dollars and take Jane on another wonderful trip.

But he hadn't made the five thousand or in fact much more than usual and in a few weeks Jane began again to appear restless and bored; later to complain of her health; or worse still to maintain queer sulky silences in his presence; to look at him as if she wished he were not there.

During the next year what little love there had been left between them seemed to die a rapid and natural death. Their relations went from bad to worse. They had come to the point where James dreaded to be alone with his wife—as he realized one warm Spring evening with peculiar poignancy as he hesitated at his front door, hating to fit his key in the lock and open it.

The house was still Jane's and Jane's alone and he never felt completely at ease in it. His long ago dream—the dream of his early married life—of some day moving back to the Mansion, he had never so much as dared mention to his wife, although she had long since begun to complain of feeling cramped in the Tyler House and longed to remodel it or to buy a large place where she could more fittingly entertain.

The Mansion was large and spacious, but any mention of it or even of past Stimson glories was almost certain to provoke Jane into a succession of caustically sarcastic remarks that James dreaded more than anything else.

James indeed made heroic efforts to remember just what subjects did or did not irritate Jane. Much of the time he was unsuccessful. He sighed wearily as he turned the lock, hoping that this evening would not be one of those times.

Jane proved somewhat sulky and tired and had little to say as they ate their dinner and James, after an attempt or two at conversation, ate silently and rapidly as was his wont. Afterwards they sat together on the front porch, still silent, and it was a relief to both of them when Mr. Northrup's large bulk loomed darkly before them at the foot of the steps.

Jane jumped up and kissed her father affectionately. James drew forward the largest, most comfortable porch rocker; almost ran into the house to get his choice cigars.

"THANK you. Thank you very much," said Mr. Northrup benevolently, biting off the end of the cigar and lighting it. "I am afraid I am putting you to a great deal of trouble—I am afraid so indeed. I just dropped in for a moment to offer James my congratulations. Your mother assured me that morning would do as well, but I felt I would sleep better if I told you both of the gratification, the extreme gratification, Mr. Preston's offer has given me."

"Mr. Preston's offer! Offer of what?" asked Jane quickly. "I haven't heard anything about it."

"That surprises me, surprises me very much. But I was told by Ellison on the way home that Mr. J. H. Preston of Kansas City had himself informed him that he intended to engage James as counsel after hearing him argue that er—Mitchel woman's case, I think it was. It was merest chance, one in a thousand, Ellison assured me, that took Mr. Preston into the court room. Opportunity at last has come knocking on James' door. I should call it Providential myself—quite Providential."

"Why, James, that's splendid," said Jane warmly. "You ought to get a big fee out of it. The Ellisons say that Mr. Preston is worth a cool five millions. But why on earth didn't you tell me about it?"

"Nothing to tell," said James shortly.

"You mean he hasn't yet offered to engage you?"

"Ye—es, he offered to, but it wasn't a case I could touch with a ten-foot pole. As far as I could find out he is trying to get rid of his wife and has nothing to base his case on except that she is old and fat and hasn't been able to adjust herself as rapidly as he to their rise from nothing to five millions. Personally, I believe there is another woman in the background egging him on."

"Do you know that—or is it just surmise?"

"I know he hasn't any grounds to divorce his wife."

"He must have or he would not be consulting a lawyer. You don't know a single thing about Mrs. Preston. She may be a perfectly terrible person. You might at least find out. Why it's the opportunity of a lifetime. Did you refuse it definitely? Just what did you say to him?"

"I told him I was not a divorce lawyer."

"But you got Sally Mitchel's divorce, didn't you? You can take a washwoman's case. I fail to see the fine distinction that keeps you from taking Mr. Preston's. Perhaps it was because Sally was just a lap or two ahead of the poor house and couldn't pay you a cent, while Mr. Preston would be sure to be good for two or three thousand dollars — perhaps more."

Mr. Northrup offers to straighten matters out, tomorrow.

WATER CARRIERS ASK FOR CHANGES IN GRAIN RATES

Members Of Exchange Plead For Removal Of Differential

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 24.—(AP)—Water carrier interests and others appealed today for changes in water-rail rates on grain.

C. W. Barr, , interstate commerce commission examiner, heard members of the Memphis Grain exchange and grain handling interests plead for the removal of the rate differential which they said keeps Memphis from becoming one of the nation's great inland grain centers.

The petitioners asked the same outbound rail rates on grain brought into Memphis by river as those in grain brought in by rail.

J. O. McClintock, manager of the Chicago branch of the Farmers National Grain corporation, said that grain brought into Memphis by river and shipped by rail to Jackson and Meridian, Miss., carries a 22 cent tariff, while grain brought in by rail and shipped out by rail carries a 14 cent rate.

"Cairo and St. Louis formerly enjoyed the same outbound rate on grain brought in by river as by rail," Mr. McClintock said. "When Memphis merchants sought the same privilege for Memphis, the carriers put rate discriminations against river-borne grain into effect in those two cities.

"The Farmers National Grain corporation, which is a cooperative, shipped 1,170,000 bushels of grain through Memphis by river last year, private concerns also shipped a large amount. Now we are coming into competition in the lower Mississippi valley with corn and oats from the Argentine which is being brought through the New Orleans gateway. This corn is carrying a 25 cent import duty—and underselling us in many places. In fact, at Seaboard, Argentine corn fixes the price."

J. K. Dent, of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, speaking for the rail interests, said the proposed changes would disrupt the delicate balance in rates which gives no city or grain area an advantage over the others.

"As an example of the havoc that the granting of this rate from Memphis would cause," he said, "it would give this city a cheaper rate to Knoxville than that from Cincinnati to Knoxville, even though it is considerably farther from here."

Robert Isham Randolph, Chicago, president of the Mississippi association, represented water interests at the hearing.

JOSEPHINE INKANISH
INDIAN PRINCESS

SHREVEPORT, June 24.—(Special)—Shreveport is wearing a colorful appearance in anticipation of the opening of its six-day centennial celebration on the morning of Saturday, June 29. The city is being daily decorated with flags and bunting and the two traffic bridges spanning Red river will be a riot of color by day and electrically resplendent at night. Indications point to a daily rush of visitors during the celebration.

During the coming week the final touches will be put to the centennial program, which embraces four parades, a historic pageant, a spectacular coronation, a queen's ball and other dances, dedication of historic tablets, a Caddo Indian village, a historic exhibit, aerial displays contributed by Barksdale field; pioneer luncheons and picnics; a southern states tennis tournament; motor boat regatta; centennial golf tournament; band concerts by twenty-four visiting bands and other features, all contributing to six days of continuous enjoyment.

The coming to Shreveport of 20 Caddo braves, specially brought from Anadarko, Okla., for purposes of the centennial, will give a picturesque turn to the celebration. Chief Charlie Adams, head of the Caddo tribe, will lead the contingent to Shreveport. Princess Josephine Inkanish will be in the group, which is to be escorted by C. Ross, Hume, attorney for the tribe. Mr. Hume is shown in the foreground of the accompanying group picture of the Caddos. In Shreveport, the Indians will live in primitive style, wear Indian costumes and follow tribal customs and practices of a century ago.

The four parades of the centennial will include a military parade and pageant on the opening day, escorted by squadrons of airplanes; a historic parade built in carnival style on Monday, July 1, an industrial arts parade on Wednesday, July 3, and a civic and fine arts parade, July 4. The queen's coronation on the opening night will reach the perfection of modern stage loveliness. A throne patterned after the famous royal dias of the shah of Persia, will be the centerpiece of the royal court, in which will appear princesses and duchesses and maids, many from outside cities and towns. The leading social feature of the celebration will be the queen's ball, on Wednesday evening at the municipal auditorium.

Shreveport extends the hand of welcome to all seekers of pleasure and intellectual entertainment.

AL KEY SUFFERS BAD TOOTHACHE

Improves Somewhat After Bothering For Several Days

MERIDIAN, Miss., June 24.—(AP)—As the Key brothers today came within three days of a new endurance flight record a bad tooth which had brought almost unbelievable suffering for several days to Al Key, older of the two pilots of the ship, was reported improved and information from the ship indicated all was well. Fred, the other brother, said he was "O. K."

The tooth which had been bothering the flyer is a right lower. It started hurting several days ago but did not reach serious proportions until late Saturday at which time apparently a dying nerve brought pains with attending throbbing.

Sunday night Al Key reported he had lanced the tooth and that it was better. If necessary the tooth may be pulled in the air.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 bearers of good will from Meridian, the out-of-town area and from many states visited the airport Sunday.

Fred Key said he was overjoyed over the big reception.

"It makes my heart fill right up," he said, "and I just don't know just how to tell you all how I appreciate seeing you."

Sunday was the first really clear day for the Keys since their takeoff on June 4 with good visibility. In discussing this, Fred stated: "Until this time we have had pretty good days but visibility has been poor. Today has been fine and clear with the air smooth most of the time. I believe we will get good weather the rest of the flight."

The Keys must remain in the air until thirteen minutes and 30 seconds past 2 p. m. Thursday to set a new record.

The present record of 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds was set July 4, 1930 by John and Kenneth Hunter at Chicago.

H. C. RAY IS BACK FROM CONVENTION

Represented Teflis Grotto At Masonic Meeting In Knoxville

H. C. Ray, Jr., monarch of Teflis Grotto, has just returned from the annual convention of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted realm in Knoxville, Tenn., last week. There were 20,000 in attendance from all parts of the country. The next convention will be held in Indianapolis, Ind.

At Norris an all-day barbecue was held and the trip through the national park was made by bus over 100 miles of country highways winding through the mountains. Mr. Ray declared that this was the most beautiful park he had ever visited, and that last year it had as many visitors as were recorded at all other national parks in the United States.

In order to make the place beautiful, 20 million dollars has been expended by the government and the Rockefeller foundation, Mr. Ray said.

Mr. Ray made the trip with Mrs. Ray by automobile. Two other Monroe people attended the convention. They were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shultz.

HONDURAN HELD IN NEW ORLEANS

Faces Charge of Possessing Narcotics Valued At $100,000

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—(AP)—A youthful Honduran was held by federal authorities today after the alleged discovery of narcotics with a retail value of $100,000 in his room, along with papers showing a tabulation on large quantities of arms and ammunition.

Agents said the Honduran gave his name as Henry Conidet, 23, of Puerto Cortez, Honduras, and admitted ownership of the narcotics. Two other men, booked as Baldo Pausina, 27, and Anthony Jurich, 32, were arrested with Coindet, but denied having any knowledge of the narcotics.

Agents said that papers giving lists of different types of firearms, with prices totaled, and a tabulation of 168,000 rounds of ammunition, were found in Coindet's room.

The prisoner was quoted as saying he planned to purchase the guns and ammunition for re-sale in his own country, but not to political groups.

Coindet was quoted as saying he was a graduate of a university in Mexico, D. F., and that his father had a large grocery business in Honduras.

Flakes of Tetter on Scalp. Disappeared After Using Cuticura.

"Mother tried several remedies but the trouble seemed to get worse. Her scalp had been in this condition about six weeks when mother began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment there was no sign of tetter." An Opportunity For Macon Ridge

A community gathering, representing various towns in the Macon Ridge area, held at Epps one night last week, was attended by over 400 persons. A program of educational importance, reflecting those things which are of prime interest to rural communities, engaged the sincere attention of the group. Of noteworthy significance was the fact that the principal speaker was a dairy expert who came from St. Louis to discuss the advantages of scientific dairying in northeast Louisiana.

The importance of such gatherings as this cannot be overestimated. They not only serve to stimulate feelings of good will amongst the communities of this area, but a definite purpose is served in arousing cooperative effort in promoting the activities which will be beneficial to the people at large.

The Macon Ridge country is a region that should lend itself to the solution of most of the economic problems that confront our farming population. It is a rich farming area, unaffected by periodic flood waters because of its elevation, and capable of producing anything that will grow in these latitudes. Cotton, of course, is its staple product, but it is capable of producing other commodities in abundance. It is especially adapted to the dairying industry, and could be made one of the best cattle regions in the south.

As the St. Louis expert pointed out, one of the most essential phases of profitable dairying and the raising of marketable beef cattle is the elimination of the Texas fever cattle tick. Until that is accomplished little can be expected on behalf of dairying or cattle raising. Marketable hogs, too, can be produced profitably in the Macon Ridge country, if the industry is intelligently directed so as to develop the proper type of porker.

The meeting at Epps gave the farmers of Macon Ridge something to think about, and if the suggestions are taken to heart by the recently formed Delhi Chamber of Commerce, as well as the progressive community clubs of West Carroll, a new era of progress and prosperity can readily be envisioned for this section of the state.

Works Program Hitch

Speed in getting approved projects started and spread in the number of men put to work have been recognized factors essential to getting the maximum in unemployment relief through spending the $4,000,000,000 public works fund. Speed and spread, however, are two elements difficult to fuse, as the president and his advisory committee have found out, under the conditions that confront them.

The promise was to create jobs for all the idle employables on relief, estimated to total 3,500,000. On that basis the average expenditure per man is less than $1,150 for both wages and materials. Now, however, the discovery is made that of the more than $1,000,000,000 of projects already passed upon, the cost per worker is nearly double what it should be. This has forced a radical change in policy announced by the White House.

The immediate serious result is the delay enforced by the decision to withhold for the time being approval of all works plans while Director Hopkins canvasses the country for local quick work that will take the least amount of materials. That such undertakings are to be given the preference means that much construction work of which the labor cost is comparatively small must be temporarily, if not permanently, sidetracked. That includes housing, upon which the president put great stress in outlining his works program to congress last January.

The situation now presented was not altogether unforeseen by some and was the basis of the doubt felt by them about the claims made by the president regarding the effectiveness of his solution for the unemployment problem. Mr. Roosevelt, however, was extremely confident. He declared he had made a study from every angle, both of the plan and the amount of money it would take. The unfortunate part of the ensuing predicament is that it inevitably raises the question if his conclusions were as soundly predicated as they were represented to be.

No Self-Made Men

There are no self-made men. People are made by people, by instances, by circumstances and grasped opportunities.

Everything that is helpful, inspiring, interesting does something to make a man.

Everything with whom we come in contact each day does something to make us what we are. We owe a debt of gratitude to every human being, to every flower that grows, to every tree, to every rock, to every song spurted from the glorious throat of every bird. Wherever beauty is, there is a contribution to all that we are.

We can put our fingers on no single thing and say that it made us. Surely we cannot say that we made ourselves what we are.

The greatest man is he who gives the greatest amount of credit to others for what success he has achieved.

There is no finer character in this world than the appreciative man or woman.

Keep giving credit if you would be happy and grow.

A man shrinks the moment he throws out his chest and says: "See what I have done!" He should say: "See what others have done!"

No matter how resourceful, energetic and successful you may be, you are not self-made, but other-made!

The right hand of Mona Lisa, painted by Leonardo da Vinci, is said to be the most perfect hand ever painted.

MIRACLES AND MEN

It was not so long ago that J. T. Trowbridge's poem about Darius Green and his flying machine caused laughter in the schoolroom whenever it was recited by a grinning pupil.

The thought that man could fly seemed as ridiculous as building a ladder that would reach the stars.

Today you rarely look up—if you live in a great city or its suburbs without seeing one-two-perhaps twenty, planes.

If you live in New York City, or near it, you can behold two miracles—one of them is the Brooklyn Bridge, which has become an antique; the other is the still longer span over the Hudson river.

Over the ground and under it, people are carried swiftly by another miracle—harnessed electric power. And if you could look through the doors of laboratories and hospitals, you would find busy and enthusiastic men putting together again parts of human frames which have been broken by accidents, or removing the causes of many diseases.

When the Creator designed and built the mind of man He produced the greatest miracle of all.

Today thousands of medical men are steadily at work, studying the causes of human diseases.

Compared with that of the men who construct tall buildings and great machines, or feed celluloid strips into devices that convert them into talking pictures, the pay of scientific men is small.

But they are far more interested in their work than in what they are going to get for it.

It is the joy of the working that keeps them in their job, and will serve to keep them there till they know all that it is possible to know.

Then their task will be taken up by those whom they have trained to carry on; and thus it will go as long as man has a place on the sphere. I think you and I ought to be grateful that we live in a time when in our own country people are at peace, and there is an opportunity to carry forward so much work which is needed to help human beings find happiness.

Piling up dollars is interesting and profitable, but compared to making over men and women so they can live longer and enjoy life more it is really a sorry business.

What these devoted men and women will perform in the future we have no means of knowing, but we are certain that miracles will not end while the earth continues to spin on its axis.

PRETTY THOUGHTS

She had such pretty thoughts. She was Unlettered, never much.
Had she had chance for books, but she Knew dreams words do not touch

She milked, she churned, she cooked and scrubbed,
But she took time to see
The wonder of a morning sky
The budding of a tree.

"The maple was so beautiful
In its new leaves today,"
At night as she served supper, she Would pause a bit to say.

"The sky was full of snow-white ships,
Or so it seemed to me,"
She would recall. She never missed
Joys spread for eyes to see.

Work never seemed so hard for her,
For she took visioning
Along with her and beauty gave
Her all that it can bring.

MEMORIAL WILL BE GIVEN HOME

Will Be Dedicated To Memory of Mrs. Walker, Local Social Worker

A memorial dedicated to the memory of Mrs. W. A. Walker, Sr., whose death occurred recently, will be presented to the Mary Goss home. This action was taken by the Council of Social Service Agencies at their recent monthly meeting. Mrs. Walker was extremely active in behalf of the home.

Mrs. Fagan Cox, president of the council named the following committee to prepare programs for the following year: Miss Elizabeth Langford, Miss Lucyle Godwin and Fred Williamson.

Mrs. Cox, in charge of the program, devoted the hour to the Young Women's Christian association, of which she is secretary. She presented Miss Pauline Sallee, president of the resident club and oldest "Y" resident, who talked of her impressions of the "Y." She was followed by Miss Mary Alice Beck, newest comer to the "Y."

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf of the executive board talked briefly on the starting of a fund to build a "Y" home here. Mrs. W. B. Clarke, member of the same board, also was present.

The next meeting, on July 17, will be held at the First Methodist church. John Madden, local attorney, will have charge of the program.

ENUMERATORS STILL BUSY WITH CENSUS

The present week will be a busy one for the enumerators throughout Ouachita parish who are completing their work in taking the 1935 quadrennial educational census. While the entire parish has been covered with care since the start of the work on June 1, there are many return calls to be made in cases where persons were absent from home when the enumerator called.

At the office of T. O. Brown, superintendent of parish schools, where the returns are reported, it was stated Monday morning that returns to date show a total of 14,724 persons of school age in the parish. These figures are such as to show a gain over the census of 1931, when the final figures were 14,513.

It is quite necessary that all children up to 18 years be counted and if any have been missed, it is desired that parents communicate at once with the office of T. O. Brown advising of the fact and an enumerator will call.

Varied Soil Erosion Tasks Are Performed By Members Of CCC

MINDEN, La., June 24.—(Special)—In the five months during which the Civilian Conservation corps camp at Minden has been in operation, the 228 boys from Hoboken, N. J., and other eastern points have planted nearly a million trees on eroded hillsides, constructed enough sack dams to plug hundreds of gullies, set up a nursery and conquered a number of forest fires. The camp is under the technical supervision of the soil conservation service at Minden.

A report describing the activities of the camp, which was received by H. H. Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service, was today transmitted to Robert Fechner, director of ECW.

Building fire lines and fighting forest fires occupied a major portion of the camp's time during the dry fall months, but by Decemeber erosion control activities started in earnest. At the end of March, 918,558 trees, chiefly pine and black locust, had been planted on lands too steep for profitable cultivation. A total of 1,183 sack dams were constructed in the gully control work, supplemented by Bermuda grass, Kudzu, honeysuckle, Dallis and rye grass, a permanent vegetative means of control.

Other erosion control activities carried forward by the camp included bank sloping and protection, construction of terrace outlet ditches, removal of underbrush from forested areas and construction and planting of a nursery.

IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

NEW YORK.—With pennons flying, and the long blue ribbon curling from her aftermast, the Normandie ploughed up the Narrows and halted at quarantine. The mail boat came under the bow, and the doctor's boat eased in behind it, and then came the tug with reporters and photographers.

In spite of all the excitement and commotion, I must have dozed. It had been a long night, with the captain's dinner and the entertainment and the party in the grill. And then the packing and the money-changing and the doling out of tips to hollow-eyed stewards. Leaning there against the rail in the good warm sunshine, I must have dozed.

Anyway, it seemed that a battalion of cameramen and reporters came charging along the deck toward me. I straightened my tie, lit an atrocious French cigaret, and looked nonchalant. "Plee-e-ese," I remonstrated, turning so the cameras would get a good profile, "I do not weesh to pose for ze peecture and it ees bettair zat I have nozzing to say for ze press!"

Qui, Mein Senor

"But, Monsieur Harrison!" chorused the reporters. "The American public—"

"Ach, ja wohl." I said resignedly. "In dot case I vill say your skyline is magnificent und your American women iss very huebsch—how you say—beautiful."

The journalists scribbled busily for a moment. Then: "Herr Harrison, what do you think of American movies—the cinema, you know?"

"The talkink pic-chuss is here to stay," I responded. "You can quote me on that inna nuzepeppers. Like to Sem Goldwyn I sez—you know Sem Goldwyn, huh?—I sez, 'Sem, the talkink picchuss is here to stay. Lossa big fortunes by smot pipple is to be made in the talkink pic-chuss'."

"Who is your favorite movie star, Mr. Harrison?" someone inquired.

I meditated for a moment, meanwhile giving the photographers a three-quarter shot of my best brow-furrowed-in-thought expression. Finally—"Gentlemen, "Ah don't rightly know. Mah chivalry, suhs, fo'ces mah neutrality in any discussion of thu merits of thu flowuh of Hollywood womanhood."

They wrote that down. "Have you traveled extensively in Europe, Colonel Harrison?" somebody asked.

"I say, you chaps are terribly persistent, aren't you!" I exclaimed, feigning impatience. "This interviewing business is rally just a lot of bally old rot. No one in Amedica poss-bly cud be in'trs'td in where a dull old blighter like myself has been—though of course I did go to deah old Lunnon and Paris and pr'ct'cly everywhere. I was in deah old Lunnon. And Paris—or did I mention Paris?"

Noble Fellow

"Yeh, you mentioned Paris, Lord Harrison," mumbled an impudent young reporter who obviously wasn't accustomed to the routine of ship-board interviews. Then he asked, "What-cha gnna do in this country?"

"Que dice, Usted—I mean, what did you say?"

"I asked, Senor Harrison, what you are going to do in this country?"

"I shall make ze travel," I said. "Eet ees my plans to hire one motor car and tour up ze West street to ze Forty-second street, zen drive through ze east to ze Place de la Times Square. Pier, Not Peer

The reporters were not recording this very carefully, I noticed. They were looking at me with puzzled, not to say suspicious, frowns. One ventured a searching question: "Do you think it likely that Switzerland, or any country remaining on the gold standard, will help bolster the franc in the next financial crisis?"

"How should I know?" I countered. "I've only been abroad three weeks."

"Aren't you the Harrison in the Bank for International Settlements?"

"Naw, I'm just a New York newspaperman . . . But you don't need to get sore; I was just trying to give you a typical ship-news interview . . ."

Leaning there against the rail, I blinked in the good warm sunshine and noticed I was alone. Also that the ship had nearly reached the pier. I must have dozed.

Greenberg And Collins Pretenders To Ruth's Throne

PAIR THREATEN TO BECOME NEW KINGS OF SWAT

Former's Record Shows 75 Runs Batted In And 19 Homers

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

A baseball season which already has seen the fading of a good many stars seems to be setting up two new pretenders to the throne of swat, vacated by Babe Ruth and so far unclaimed by his logical successor, Lou Gehrig.

Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers and Jim (Ripper) Collins of the St. Louis Cardinals are the current leaders of the belting brigade. Both are threatening to do great things before the season ends.

With only 59 of the season's 154 games gone for each, Greenberg has batted in 75 runs, clouting 19 home runs to hold the major league lead. Collins, who hit his fifth homer in consecutive games and his 15th of the season in the Cards' opening victory over Brooklyn yesterday, has knocked home 60 counters. That seems to entitle both to shoot at the records of 190 runs batted in by Hack Wilson and 184 by Gehrig.

After smacking his homer and driving in five runs while the Cards took the opener 16 to 2 yesterday, Collins was slowed down a trifle in the second contest when Brooklyn hammered out a 10 to 6 decision.

Greenberg also wound up on the losing side when Washington pounded Joe Sullivan in the early innings to trim the Tigers, 12 to 7. Hank did his best by socking homer 19 with the bases loaded in the ninth.

The Cards' even break with Brooklyn cost them second place in the National league as Pittsburgh's Pirates bowled over Boston twice, 4 to 3 and 7 to 4. Gus Suhr produced a victory with a ninth inning homer for the second straight day in the opener.

The Pirates continued to trail the Giants by seven games as the league leaders opened against the fourth-place Cubs, with an 8 to 0 triumph. Fred Fitzsimmons, scattering eleven hits effectively, earned his fourth victory and his fourth shutout.

The Reds turned back Philadelphia's challenge for sixth place by sweeping a bargain bill, 6 to 5 and 5 to 2.

The clouting Cleveland Indians, seeking to pull the Yankees back to the rest of the American league field, did a good job for the second straight day when they defeated the league leaders 6 to 5. Lefty Gomez whiffed ten Indians but uncorked two wild pitches to pave the way for the winning run in the ninth.

Chicago and Boston split a twin bill, the White Sox taking the opener 4 to 2 behind Ted Lyons and the Red Hose replying with a heavy assault on Silent Jim Whitehead to win 8 to 2. It was the fifth straight defeat for Whitehead.

The Athletics pounded virtually the whole St. Louis mound staff for 31 hits and trounced the Browns 11 to 7 and 13 to 3.

Big Crowd Expected To See Carnera-Louis Bout

Probably Will Be Second Largest 'Gate' For Mixed Match

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 24.—(AP)—The search for fistic fireworks leads tomorrow night to the Yankee stadium where the biggest boxing crowd of the year will see if the youthful cannon cracker from Detroit, Joe Louis, has enough explosive power to blast through the ponderous defense of Primo Carnera.

Acclaimed the most terrific puncher in heavyweight ranks since Jack Dempsey, Louis will attempt to cut down his 260-pound opponent on the spot where the celebrated Manassa Mauler flattened Jack Sharkey eight years ago.

The betting was even money that the "brown bomber" would do it well inside the limit of 15 rounds, but a good share of the experts at least will be convinced only when they see it done.

Louis will make his metropolitan debut after a sensational "build-up." Only 21 years old and barely a year out of amateur ranks, the Detroit negro has compiled an amazing record in the middle west. He has scored 18 knockouts in 22 professional fights. He is reputed to have had every opponent he has ever met, amateur or pro, on the floor at least once with his short, deadly punches.

He has yet to feel the pressure under fire, however, so that it remains to be seen how effective he will be against a fighter of Carnera's size, courage and staying powers.

No one expects Carnera, for all his tremendous bulk, to bowl over the youthful negro. Primo's punch is strictly of the barnstorming variety, but the Italian giant no longer is lightly regarded.

Fast for his size and exceedingly game, despite his tendency to become flustered by a heavy attack, Carnera has developed an effective left hand to support his bear-like tactics at close range. It remains to be seen whether he can forestall another such battering as he took at Max Baer's hands a year ago.

If the fight goes the limit and he hasn't been on the floor too often, Carnera should have an excellent chance to win on points. The victor will be matched in September with Max Baer.

Louis is gunning for the heavyweight championship, ambitious to be the first of his race to scale the top since Jack Johnson ruled fistiana, but the goal looks a long way off. The plans for champion James J. Braddock do not call for any taste of the dynamite in the young negro's fists.

If the predicitions of Promoter Mike Jacobs are fulfilled, the fight will draw more than 50,000 cash customers and a "gate" approximating $400,000.

These figures are sensational, measured by current box office standards. They would mean the second largest "house" in fight history for a heavyweight mixed match. Harry Wills and Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," drew slightly more than $500,000 at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, in 1924.

Preliminary bouts, starting at 7:15 p.m. (Eastern Standard time) will include a six rounder between Buddy Baer, younger but bigger brother of Max, and "Big Boy" Rawson. The main bout is slated for 9 p.m. There will be no broadcast. If the weather forces a postponement, the show will be held Wednesday night.

Ole Miss Law Student Winner Of Net Crown

JACKSON, Miss., June 24.—(AP)—Fred Berger of Port Gibson, Miss., 19-year-old University of Mississippi law student, wore the state tennis championship crown today, trophy of his gruelling five-set victory over Clay Miller of Jackson, defending champion, in the finals of the Mississippi Open tournament here Saturday.

The score tells the story of the closeness of the match, three sets being carried into extra games. The score: 12-14, 6-3, 5-7, 9-7, 6-4. In the final game, Miller was within three points of victory at one time, only to be outlasted and outskilled by Berger.

TEXAS LEAGUE

(By Associated Press)

Al Shealy, veteran Tulsa Oiler right-hander, stole a Texas league pitching show Sunday with a no-hit, no-run pitching masterpiece in the seven-inning nightcap of a doubleheader between Tulsa and San Antonio.

Not a Mission player reached first base as Shealy's perfect control and gilt-edged support by his mates left the Mission batters floundering at the plate or making fruitless trips toward the first sack. Meantime, the Oilers got to Wiltse and Pyle, Mission hurlers, for 11 hits and seven runs.

San Antonio got an even break by copping the first game, 3-2, behind the six-hit pitching of Caldwell.

Shealy's performance was almost equalled by McLaughlin of Beaumont, who set the Oklahoma City Indians down with one single, a hit by Myers, centerfielder, as his mates batted him to a 5-1 win. The Indians had taken the first game of the doubleheader, 3-2.

Two three-hit contests were turned in by Pippen of Houston and Max Butcher, league leading pitcher with the Galveston Buccaneers.

Pippen hurled the Buffs to a 2-0 shutout over Fort Worth in the second game of a doubleheader, giving the Houston entry an even break after the Cats took the opener, 7-3.

Butcher of Galveston held Dallas helpless and chalked up his 13th win of the season as the Pirates collected 11 hits off George Murray and George Connally to take the contest at Dallas, 5-1.

Old Big Leaguer Shows His Son How To Pitch

JACKSON, Miss., June 24.—(AP)—An old-time big leaguer got back into a baseball uniform here yesterday and showed his son how to throw 'em over the plate.

He was Tiny Osborne, Sr., 42, who once twirled for the Brooklyn Dodgers. His son, 19, is a member of the Jackson East Dixie league team.

The son pitched the first game of a double-header against Pine Bluff and lost, 3 to 1.

The father was signed as a player for the day and pitched the seven-inning night-cap, allowing only three scratch hits and shutting out Pine Bluff, 2 to 0.

BRIGHT FUTURE PREDICTED FOR 'ALABAMA' PITTS

Former Sing Sing Inmate Makes Fine Showing In First Game

ALBANY, N. Y., June 24.—(AP)—Seasoned baseball critics today predicted a bright future for Alabama Pitts in the sport he played behind Sing Sing prison walls.

The opinion was almost unanimous that the smiling southerner, performing like a veteran both at bat and in centerfield, demonstrated in no uncertain terms yesterday in his organized baseball debut that he has the makings of a first-class minor, if not major league, player.

Appearing in the lineup of the Albany International league club for the first time since he was ruled eligible, Alabama in a double-header with Syracuse banged out two singles in eight times at bat, drove in a run, scored another himself and accounted for five put-outs. The team, however, lost both games 8 to 6 and 3 to 2.

"He played marvelous ball," said General Manager Johnny Evers, who with Warden Lewis E. Lawes was responsible for giving the broad-shouldered Pitts a chance in the sport.

"With a little more training, and polishing up here and there, I firmly believe the boy will go to the top."

The 7,752 howling fans who saw him play agreed.

Pitts' mother, Mrs. Irma Pitts Rudd, who came from New York to see the games, was "very happy that my boy made good because he has had so much difficulty."

Twice in the opening game he ran 40 to 45 feet on soggy turf to catch hard hit balls that looked like certain doubles.

Both of Pitts' singles were clean and hard hit, one figuring in a two-run rally that chased Fred Russell, Syracuse hurler, from the game.

In brief, here is what the broad-shouldered Pitts did:

First game:

At bat—Grounded out in the first inning, was safe at first base on an infield error of his grounder in the third, flied out to right field in the fifth, singled in the seventh and singled to deep center, scoring a run, in the ninth.

Afield—Made two neat catches of hard-hit flies in the second frame, dashed 40 yards after a fly, barely missing it, in the third, nabbed another in the fourth inning and went near to right field to take a low liner in the fifth.

Second game:

At bat—Struck out in the first inning, grounded out to shortstop in the third and popped out to first base in the fifth.

Afield—Caught a high fly in the sixth.

LOOKOUTS VICTORS IN PAIR OF GAMES

Chattanooga Moves Into Third Place In Southern League

(By Associated Press)

The Chattanooga Lookouts, backing up their pitchers with some consistent hitting, won a Sunday doubleheader from Little Rock, 4 to 2 and 6 to 3, to move into third place. Hayes held the Travelers to seven hits in the first encounter, while his teammates took nine off Porter. Petty gave up only six safeties in the nightcap, while Chattanooga nicked Hulvey and Willoughby for a total of 9.

New Orleans, behind the eight-hit pitching of Al Milnar, won the first game of a doubleheader from Knoxville, 4 to 3, and then fought the Smokies to a 6-to-6 tie in the nightcap called in the eleventh inning because of darkness.

The Smokies got off to a four run lead in the second game with the aid of three New Orleans errors but the Pels tied the score by a seventh inning rally and nobody was able to break the tie after that.

Memphis divided a twin bill with Nashville.

The Chicks took the first encounter, 4 to 2, making the best of a five-hit performance by Jim Henry.

Byron Speece of the Vols pitched a three-hit game in the second clash. One of the safeties he gave up was a home run, the only Chick score. Nashville won the game by a score of 5 to 1.

"Bud" Thomas, young Cracker pitcher, won his eleventh victory for the league-leading Crackers yesterday as they triumphed over Birmingham, 7 to 3.

Dolphin Of New Orleans Is Winner Of Yacht Race

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 24.—(AP)—Officials announced that a handicap gave the victory in Saturday's yacht race from Biloxi, Miss., to Pensacola to the Dolphin of New Orleans, which was second across the line.

The Shellback, also of New Orleans, first to finish, was given as the winner in earlier reports. Official reports gave third place to the Windjammer of New Orleans, and fourth to the Pagan Moon of Pensacola.

Four entries, missing after the race, were the object of a search by coast guardsmen. Later it was reported they had returned to port and were safe.

FAIRBANKS GIVES BROWN MEN 3RD DEFEAT OF YEAR

Carbon Blackers Beat Ruston Team By Score Of 7 To 1

FAIRBANKS, La., June 24.—(Special)—Fairbanks handed Brown its third defeat of the season on the local diamond Sunday afternoon. "Cowboy" Kyle turned in one of the best performances of the year, holding Brown to one hit and scoreless up to the ninth inning. He weakened somewhat in the ninth, allowing four runs on four hits and one error.

W. Brazil and Senn had a perfect day at the bat, getting four and three hits, respectively. Manager Norman hit a home run in the third, with two on bases.

Both teams played good ball, but Fairbanks was too much at bat for the Brown men, behind the effective pitching of Kyle. The score was 8 to 4.

RUSTON LOSES TO CARBON BLACKERS

SWARTZ, La., June 24.—(Special)—In a Ouachita Valley league game at the local park Sunday afternoon, the Carbon Blackers defeated Ruston by the score of 7 to 1.

Pittard, for Swartz, kept the 10 Ruston hits well scattered, while the locals bunched their nine hits, including home runs by Bagwell and Covington, and three singles by Douglas.

Willis, the starting pitcher for Ruston, was driven out in the third, and Pankey, who took over the pitching duties, hurled well the remainder of the game.

Marks' work at second for the Carbon Blackers was the defensive feature of the game.

STERLINGTON WINS OVER OAK GROVE

This victory put Sterlington within one game of Brown Paper mill, the league leaders.

The score:

Sterlington 6 15 2
Oak Grove 1 9 0

Batteries: for Sterlington, Young and Gimber; for Oak Grove, Richberg and Baxter.

DIPHTHERIA DRIVE AIDED BY PARENTS

Effort To Be Made To Immunize Ouachita Parish Childen

Parents are reported to be cooperating in the drive to immunize every child in Ouachita parish between the ages of six months and 12 years from diphtheria.

The campaign is sponsored by the Forty and Eight of the American Legion. It is part of a nation-wide project. Dr. A. G. McHenry is local chairman and 2,500 doses of toxoid have been received here.

Only one dose of the serum is required to immunize a child for life and all physicians are emphasizing the necessity of securing this treatment for children.

It is proposed to render children of the entire parish immune during the next few weeks. Treatment is to be given by family physicians at a nominal charge. When parents are unable to pay this small fee, arrangements can be made to obtain treatment without charge.

The Ouachita parish health unit and all civic and welfare groups are cooperating to make the movement a complete success.

Scout Trails In Ouachita Valley

News of the Boy Scout Troops in the Ouachita Valley Council

Reports from scribes must be received at the News-Star office not later than 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon to insure appearance Monday.

TROOP 67

Friday night was "parents" night" at our troop meeting and quite a number attended the meeting. The meeting was called to order and everyone stood at attention repeating the scout oath led by Eugene Tull.

The scoutmaster made a report to the troop and to the parents on the annual summer camp at Ki-Ro-Li attended by a portion of the troop, June 9 to 16. Harold Williams and Dalton Veatch received their first class badges. William W. Trezevant received his life badge and all the boys attending camp received some of their most difficult merit badges. Buford Goss and Eugene Tull were given awards as "honor campers." They were selected by the camp staff out of each troop. Mack McInnis, who is attending his second week at camp, reported he had earned his last three and the most difficult merit badges for his eagle rank and will receive the following three merit badges at the camp court of honor Saturday night: Camping, pioneering and cooking. Mack and several other scouts in the troop will receive their eagle rank in July.

The troop was fortunate in having Chief William Red Fox, a noted Indian throughout the world, who has been a member of the annual summer camp staff at Ki-Ro-Li, to speak to them and to the parents. He spoke on "Custer's battle" and Indian traits and also entertained the group with several Indian dances. He instilled the proper spirit of scouting and told what a real scout should be and do and advised all the scouts to respect their scout uniform and by all means live up to the scout oath and law. Everyone gave Chief their utmost attention and enjoyed every minute of his entertainment and gave him a rousing cheer when he finished.

Chief Red Fox dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

JOHN W. WILHITE, Troop Scribe.

"It is no lie, Majesty," said Tomos. "Erot saw Tarzan and Gemnon coming from Doria's home late at night. Se says they were quarreling over the beautiful girl; he believed Gemnon sought the stranger's life because of jealousy." The Queen's face became pale and tense with fury.

"Someone shall die for this," she said. "Go!" Tomos left, elated at the success of his lies. Then he remembered the Queen had not stated explicitly WHO should die. He had assumed she meant Tarzan, but it presently occurred to him that she might have meant another.

When Tarzan, protected by a guard, arrived at the palace, he was immediately admitted alone into Nemone's presence. From her first words the ape-man knew some enemy had turned informer and already she knew of his visit to Doria's home. But he hid his surprise.

"Why, last night, were you at the house of Thudos?" she demanded. "Why does Gemnon go there?" "Gemnon is in love with Doria; I thought all Cathne knew THAT!" replied the ape-man smiling. "The Queen's eyes narrowed. "It is YOU who is in love with the girl!"

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 24.—(AP)—Some profit taking came into today's stock market but the list, as a whole, apparently acted well enough to satisfy the financial sector.

Many of the leaders moved in an extremely narrow range. Firm and soft spots were about evenly divided. The close was somewhat irregular. Transfers approximated 1,150,000 shares.

By Victor Eubank
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, June 24.—(AP)—The stock market was not in a capercutting mood today but prices, on the whole, reflected the recent revival of speculative and investment optimism.

Selective buying, mixed with a little profit taking here and there, kept the list in a relatively narrow range. After a rather fast opening pace, trading settled down to a dignified jog. There was no significant change in trade news nor in the Washington picture.

Grains were unable to get ahead as improved weather and harvesting prospects were reported. Cotton was somewhat lower. Secondary bonds were again inclined to point upward. Foregin exchanges held to a restricted area.

Shares of Case, Union Pacific, International Business Machines, United Fruit and United Corp., got up a point or so each. Small gains were shown by General Motors, Consolidated Gas, Safeway Stores, Bethlehem, International Harvester, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific. At the same time American Can yielded about 3 points on realizing, while such issues as American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Chrysler and DuPont were around their Saturday's final quotations.

Silver mining equities found little comfort in the reduction of imported bar silver in New York by 1 3-4 cents an ounce to 70 1-4 cents. This was the lowest price for this metal since April 23, and the largest single day's decline since May 3.

Hope for expanding stock business was seen in the upward trend of stock exchange membership rates. A seat changed hands today at $108,000, up $3,000 from a previous transaction. It was the high price of the year.

Comment among market observers has been uniformly favorable concerning the sturdy fashion in which the securities markets surmounted the unexpected announcement of the president's new policy of higher taxes on large personal and corporate incomes.

Some analysts have compared the incident to the supreme court decision invalidating the NRA in its market implications. They point out that both these pieces of major Washington news were greeted with only minor set-backs and that lower market trends were quickly retraced.

CHICAGO, June 24.—(AP)—Grain prices averaged lower early today, influenced by reports of more rapid progress of domestic wheat harvest operations in the southwest. ELECTRIC RATE PROPOSALS ARE BEING STUDIED Southwestern Gas and Electric company of Shreveport.

It was stated that Peyton Sandoz, Opelousas, La., attorney associated with Long and known in the state capital as the "incorporated" part of the fee basis, law practicing combination Long jokingly refers to as "Huey P. Long, Inc.," would handle the inquiry.

Long and Sandoz have been representing the state tax commission in pressing claims for allegedly due back taxes, and have been prosecuting investigations of state utilities for the public service commission.

Their work for the tax commission has been under contract calling for retention of one-third of all money collected as attorney's fee, and for the public service commission on the basis of assessments levied against the utilities investigated.

The Shreveport residential electric rate schedule ranges upward from 7 cents a kilowatt for the first 5 kilowatts used per room per month.

company, and based on 1926 as 100, the first nine-mont.. cycle started from a level of 55 in March, 1933. It reached its crest in July at 88.4,, and subsided through November.

The second wave started in December, 1933, from a trough at 67.1, or substantially above the previous bottom. It worked up to 79.5 in May, 1934, failing to get as high as the previous crest, then slid down through August.

The trough from which the third wave started was 63.2, in September, somewhat below the previous one, but still well above the 55 level from which the first wave started, the upward sweep carried into last March, when a crest of 84.3 was reached, which again failed to top the crest of that first steep wave.

Just where the third wave ends is yet to be determined decisively. If the nine-month pattern is to be followed precisely, the low point should be this month. Standard Statistic company's preliminary estimate of its index for this month is 74.2, well above the bottoms of previous troughs.

Some analysts think this intermediate bottom may be reached in July, owing to the disturbance of the dropping of NRA codes, which would make the third wave a ten-month cycle. But most of them look for substantially higher levels by autumn.

at Frankfort, the officials called for a special grand jury, with a special judge from outside this section, to convene immediately. The letter was signed by County Attorney William Rice, Sheriff Tom C. McDaniel, Circuit Clerk Clay M. Bishop, County Clerk S .V. Sizemore and former County Judge Roy W. House.

The officials, in making the request, said they had full confidence in their own judiciary but suggested an outside jurist so there would not be any basis for a charge of laxity in law enforcement.

Charles Parks, one of the garbage men, declared that the garbage delegation had demanded the resignation of the mayor "to get a square deal" and said a renewal of the strike was threatened for tomorrow "if we don't get what we want."

Walmsley charged that Senator Long had sent emissaries to the garbage collectors with a promise to pay them if Walmsley could be induced to resign.

The mayor said he had told the workers' representatives that the federal emergency relief administration, which stepped in Saturday, was paying them now and that the city council was without authority to deal with them.

while extra police and plainclothes men were detailed to the embassy.

Details of the bombing were not made public, but it was learned from reliable sources that police were tracing a clue and expected to arrest those responsible.

Ambassador Daniels said he was at a loss to account for the incident, having received no threats of any kind.

The ambassador declined to make a complaint, but a policeman on guard at the embassy recovered fragments of the bomb and reported the incident to police headquarters.

The embassy is situated in the fashionable Colonia Juarez. A few blocks away is the Japanese legation, where a similar bombing attempt, attributed to communists, was made several months ago.

FORMER FEDERAL INVESTIGATOR IS HELD IN BRIBERY

waived prosecution in favor of the government.

Jones, frequently a critic of the New Deal and particularly the securities commission, was under a commission subpoena to appear next Thursday in a hearing connected with his registration of a security issue.

Raybell, who had resigned by request from the commission staff on June 20, was accused by Jones of offering to "fix things up" for $27,500, tipping him on points of the commission's case and influencing documentary testimony in Jones' behalf.

From his contacts with the former agent, Jones asserted he learned he was the victim of political persecution and had been "framed."

The broker said Raybell first demanded $50,000 but on a visit to the Jones home Friday night agreed on $27,500, returning yesterday to collect a $250 down payment.

When Raybell, stocky, baldish and married, drove up to the Jones residence yesterday, detectaphones nestled behind radiators, pictures and in a radio cabinet in the oil man's "den." In the attic two stenographers sat with head-phones and poised pencils. A phonograph recording device was hooked up.

Other listeners-in were two department of justice agents; Lieutenant Arthur Carney of the Scarsdale police, Assistant District Attorney William Horan of Westchester county, and two attorneys for Jones.

The broker said he handed Raybell the money and as he was about to depart the two federal men emerged. Jones declared the money later was found behind a door in the dining room.

Afterward Jones issued a lengthy formal statement which, in part, said the arrest "will point the way toward a real racket, which should give the true and loud warning to legitimate business men in this country who innocently place confidential information at the disposal of a commission which has a house of its own to clean.

"I wish emphatically to state that nothing done attaches any stigma to any of the honorable members of the commission. * * * I regard all of them as honorable men who must place responsibility upon subordinates."

Efforts to reach Raybell for a statement were unavailing.

DILLINGER FEAR IS TOLD

Dillinger when Piquett was acquitted, and again last week.

They described how Dillinger and Van Meter agreed to pay an exorbitant price for a bed in a shack occupied by James J. Probasco, tavern keeper, who committed suicide when arrested as the hideout keeper.

They related how Dillinger, waiting in the shack for a face-lifting operation on May 24, 1934, would brazenly walk about the neighborhood and then abjectedly almost decide to give himself up when he read that government agents had orders to shoot on sight.

They testified Dillinger boldly met both Piquett and Arthur O'Leary, Piquett's office aide, at dangerous places and times, but sat calmly by in an automobile while agents arrested his sweetheart, Evelyn Frechette.

They told of the murderous fury of the fugitives when they saw the results of their facial operations for the first time and of how the pair was quieted by reassurances that they looked "all right."

They recounted Dillinger's distrust of those about him and how his suspicions were justified when his aides quarreled over the money which he paid in lots of as much as $7,000.

MONROE MAYOR ASKED TO ATTEND COTTON PARLEY

an intelligent part in the conference.

In his letter to Mayor Bernstein, Mayor Walmsley said: "Business in general, and the tax revenues of the cities and states throughout the cotton belt are menaced by the rapid loss of markets for the south's cotton. May I stress the vital need for concerted action, and request and urge you to send several outstanding business men from your city to assist the conference in finding a remedy for the now acute problems of the cotton belt."

The letter of President Taylor said: "During the first nine months of the current season, exports of United States cotton have dropped forty per cent. Even the United States mills are using less and less United States produced cotton. Loss of markets will mean great harm to business, to labor, and even to the tax revenues of the cotton states and cities. A southwide conference of serious men may be able to find some way to safeguard the south's chief economic asset."

administration pressed a separate bill at this session to carry out the Roosevelt program they would force the issue by offering it as a rider to a pending resolution extending $500,000,000 in "nuisance" taxes.

Still apparently uncertain as to whether the president wants the new program passed now or at a later session, Democratic leaders planned to consult him shortly to get his views.

Realizing that attempts to amend the "nuisance" tax resolution would lead to indefinite delay, leaders have urged against such action. Most of the new levies expire June 30 and the leaders want them renewed before that time.

Speaking for a sizeable group in both parties, LaFollette said he would offer amendments to raise an estimated $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 of revenue "unless we can get a definite assurance that a separate bill is going to be passed."

LaFollette was "encouraged" over the outlook, especially since Borah, Idaho Republican, and often a critic of the New Deal, came out for the president's recommendations for an inheritance tax, and higher levies on large individual and corporation incomes.

In a formal statement last night, Borah described the proposals as "not only sound economically, but sound on morals."

He did not see them as a "soak-the-rich" or "share-the-wealth" idea, but rather as a "share-the-burden-of-government program."

He declared it was proper to "take care of our vast expenditures to a larger degree through heavier taxes" and added that if the taxes were "wisely laid such a program will be more conducive to recovery than the reckless voting of bonds and the increase of the interest burden."

Continuing, he said:

"We have bills now pending and which will likely be passed that will call for heavier expenditures than the tax bill will likely take care of.

"There is nothing more conducive to waste, to extravagance, and to economic demoralization than the unconscionable system of passing expenditures over to our children, and our children's children in the way of bonds and interest.

"The plan proposed would be a fake as a distribution of wealth program, but it will tend greatly to bring us to a realization of what these expenditures really mean, and is sound in principle.

"Neither can it be said that it is a soak-the-rich program. All winter, states have been voting sales taxes which soak the poor. In addition to that, many taxes supposed to be laid at a particular point slip down the economic ladder until they find someone who can pass them no farther.

"This program ought to be considered as a just and timely readjustment of our tax laws in the light of our stupendous expenditures."

MUSSOLINI DEAF TO ACCORD TALK

naval conference than the 1.5 battleships granted to Italy under the Washington treaty, compared to five for the United States and Great Britain.

Italian sources said the issues of the Italo-Ehiopian dispute and the league of nations, from which press threats of withdrawal have been issued, would not be discussed at the morning meeting.

If it came up at later conversations, they asserted, Mussolini would tell Eden that Italy intended to go ahead with a complete "radical" solution of the Ethiopian problem and would not listen to any partial solutions such as concessions of territory.

Indicative of the Italian attitude toward Eden's visit was the fact that newspapers were instructed not to give it prominence.

Both British and Italian official circles characterize as ridiculous reports published abroad that Eden would offer Mussolini the African territory of Ogaden.

Even if Italy were to receive such an offer, officials said she would refuse it, declining any partial solution of the border controversy.

British circles insisted that Ogaden was not Eden's to offer, and that not even British pressure could be sufficient to induce Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia to offer it.

Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, and William Strang, foreign office expert, accompanied Captain Anthony Eden to Venezzia palace for the conversations.

The committee charged big shipbuilders with breaking up the Geneva naval limitation conference in 1927 and immediately launching a price increasing campaign that "made profits of 35 and 25.4 and 36.9 per cent on the cruisers."

The committee said there was "danger in allowing self-interested groups such as the shipbuilders" to be in "the close position of influence, as they are at present, to such an important instrument of national policy as the navy is."

Baptist Encampment Is Declared Success

The Northeast Louisiana Baptist encampment at Olla, which opened June 18 and will close Thursday, has been exceptionally successful, with large attendance and unusual interest and enthusiasm being shown, according to Rev. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist church of Monroe and president of the encampment.

Rev. Hastings returned here to spend the week-end at home and went back to the camp Monday morning.

The campers are using the CCC quarters and the latter are stationed elsewhere during the encampment.

There are study periods, recreation periods and many events of interest.

Dr. A. E. Prince, inspirational speaker, brings messages of fervor and helpfulness, while Rev. A. D. Muse, evangelistic preacher, takes each day a prominent part on the programs.

The purpose of the camp is expressed as study, worship, inspiration and recreation. Swimming, hiking, tennis, baseball and many other features are embodied in the schedule for the camp.
